

Kitty Hailey, CLI has long been an advocate of professionalism in our industry. As a result of years working with criminal defense, civil rights and post conviction capital habeas work, she understands the need for strong ethical understanding of the rights of and for investigators. Her ethics book: Code of Professional Conduct: Standards and Ethics for the Investigative Profession is now in it's third edition with relevant changes that update the new impacts of technology in our field. Kitty is a frequent lecturer, writer for professional journals and freely gives advice to investigators who question the consequences of their actions. She is the recipient of the Buddy Bombet Lifetime Achievement award and has been named Investigator of the Year by the New Jersey Licensed Private Investigators Association. This is an interactive presentation, not a lecture. So be prepared to share and get involved. To learn more about Kitty visit her website at www.kittyhailey.com. Feel free to contact her with questions or comments about her writings and her talk.
